Profile

I am a designer by birth and a teacher by choice. I define myself as ambitious, adaptable, self-motivated. I'd like to set new challenges for me all the time and meet new goals. After sunset, fun begins. With passion, I start my night design work. It is the superman break to have fun with what he loves. Opps, my night flight shift has just begun. See ya!

Work Experience

August 2007 - now
Chief web officer / Designframe USA.
Washington DC, USA

I am responsible for managing the design process of organizing the design tasks across the design team, running brainstorming sessions, set concepts and design styles that align with client's branding and creative input we come up with. That includes a different range of design projects including, websites, annual reports, brochures, awareness short movies, social media campaigns for international NGOs like WHO, PAHO, ILO, UNICEF, UNESCO...etc.

July 2005 - July 2007
Senior Web Designer / WinningSEM
Cairo, Egypt

I was responsible for creating websites, web banners, brochures, flyers, and logos for our clients. My primary duties included conceptualizing and implementing creative ideas for client brochures and flyers, as well as creating visual elements that are in line with our clients' branding. I was working closely with our web development team to ensure proper and hassle-free implementation.
